HARRIE JONES WINS TWO RACES

The Hermitage Takes First in 2:08
Pace For $1,000, After Hard Fight.

ALCYFRAS IN MATCH RACE

Finishes Second With Baron Dillon,
Jr., and is First With Katherine
R. in 2:24 Trot.

Harrie Jones, the local horseman, who has been very successful so far this season, had another good day yesterday at the State fair and won two races, finished second in another and took a fourth place. Jones won the 2:08 pace for $1,000 with The Hermitage and the 2:24 trot for $1,000 with Katherine R. In the 2:14 trot he finished second with Baron Dillon, Jr., and his trainer, Williams, was fourth with Bessie Prodigal. The 2:08 pace was probably the most exciting race on the program and Jones was forced to drive all the way to win. He dropped the third heat to Bill Bailey, the Indianapolis gelding.

The Hermitage and Dan B. raced to the front at the quarter in the first heat of the 2:08 pace and went as a team to the head of the stretch. Jones took The Hermitage home pulled up, Dan B. tiring so badly that Black Wig beat him out for second place. The time for the first three-quarters was fast, but the last quarter was in 34 seconds and the mile in 2:10 1/4.

A hard fought, whipping finish brought the spectators to their feet in the second heat. The Hermitage went out in front accompanied again by Dan B. This pair made a race of it to the half, where Dan B. broke. Black Wig moved up and made the pace to the three-quarters, and turning into the stretch, Hammond came around on the outside with Liberty Jay. It was a great fight down the stretch, with all three drivers applying the whip liberally. The Hermitage had a whisker lead at the wire over Liberty Jay, and both were a scant half length ahead of Black Wig. The time was 2:09 3/4, although the first half was done in 1:04.

Pixley, with Black Wig came near upsetting the dope in the third heat. He took the pole from The Hermitage and Liberty Jay at the turn and set a hot clip all the way. The Hermitage, Bill Bailey and Liberty Jay collared him at the head of the stretch and the four put up a great fight. Just as it seemed The Hermitage had taken the heat and won the race Black sneaked through on the inside with Bill Bailey and won by a head. The Hermitage was second and Liberty Jay third. Black Wig, tiring badly, was fourth a length back. The time was 2:09 1/4.

Black Wig set sail for the lead in the fourth heat and took it at the turn. He held it to the middle of the stretch when The Hermitage and Liberty Jay collared and beat him. The Hermitage, winning by a neck, also took the race. Bill Bailey drew second money by virtue of having won a heat, while Liberty Jay and Black Wig, contenders all the time, took third and fourth respectively. The time of the mile was 2:10 1/2.

In the first heat of the 2:14 trot, Jones rushed Baron Dillon, Jr., to the front, closely pursued by Chandler, with Castle Dome. These two raced all the way, Jones keeping his western horse in front and winning the heat. The time was 2:12 1/4. Bessie Prodigal was third.

In the second heat Jones went off in front with Baron Dillon, Jr., and led past the quarter. Down the back stretch McDowald moved up alongside with Jesemiah. Around the turn

SEARCH FOR SUICIDE

Posse is Formed in Spiceland After Finding of Note.

A practical joker threw Spiceland into all kinds of excitement yesterday by a well played trick. On a stone near the John Payne farm was attached a note bearing the following inscription:

"You will find my body in the thicket."
Signed: "A. R. B."

The body was found and it proved to be a well disguised dummy. A big searching body made the investigation and sheepishly left the vicinity when the fake corpse was located.

MILROY BOY ISN'T HELD RESPONSIBLE

Harry Richei, Former Rush County
Man, Runs Down Indianapolis
Pedestrian With Auto.

THE VICTIM EXONERATES HIM

After he had been run down and seriously injured yesterday by a car driven by Harry M. Richei, once famous auto racer, Winfield Tipps, 40 years old, Salem, Ind., declared that Richei was not at fault and that he himself was to blame for the accident, says the Indianapolis Star. Mr. Tipps had started to cross New York street near Meridian street, when Richei attempted to avoid a collision with another auto turning into Meridian street, swung sharply into New York street. Mr. Tipps said he failed to take proper precautions in watching for approaching vehicles.

Richei has only one arm, having lost an arm while driving a racing car on the Vanderbilt cup course on Long Island several years ago. At the time of this accident he was taking Charles J. Rose of Des Moines, Iowa, to the Union station in Mr. Rose's car. Richei was not arrested.

DOG GRIEVES OVER LOSS OF ITS MASTER

Valuable Scotch Collie Hibernates
Under North Julian Street Barn
And Howls Pitifully.

REFUSES TO LEAVE THE PLACE

There is a valuable Scotch Collie dog that is pining away and grieving itself to death over the loss of its master. It has been hibernating under a barn in North Julian street for a week and now refuses to be coaxed out of its hiding place. Several days ago, Ed Walker, a tenant on the John Wallace farm, hauled a load of hay to a barn in Julian street, and after unloading it, drove away, not noticing that the dog did not follow the wagon. The dog was under the barn at the time and failed to note its master's departure. It has been under the barn since that time and refuses to leave the place. By night it howls and emits pitiful cries and by day it occasionally sticks its head from under the barn floor and whines in a most pathetic manner. All of the residents of that part of the city have been vexed and tormented for many nights by the doleful and forlorn howls of the canine.

QUORUM IS NOT PRESENT AGAIN

For Second Time This Week County
Council Fails to Have Enough For Meeting.

MAY GET TOGETHER FRIDAY

Tax Levy, Now Only 23 Cents on the Hundred Dollars, Will be Made—Considered Very Low.

The county council is experiencing some difficulty in getting together this year and it seems that the annual meeting which has in the past seldom ever taken more than two, and at the most three days, will require four or five this time. County officials said this morning that the council would probably not finish up before Friday or Saturday.

Tuesday, the time for the annual meeting of the council convened, elected a new member to fill a vacancy and read for the first time the county budget filed by the various county officials as estimates of the county's expense for the coming year. Yesterday morning the county council expected to meet and make the appropriation for the county's expenses. But there was no quorum present yesterday and the meeting was planned for this morning. This morning again there was no quorum present and the same program will be attempted tomorrow morning. With what success it is impossible to predict.

It will be a part of the duty of the county council to levy the county tax. That will be done after the appropriations are made and it will be possible to estimate just how much money will be needed. It is a notable fact that the Rush county tax during the year which is drawing near an end was lower than the tax in most any county in the district. All over the district yesterday county councils fixed the tax levy and in every case, it is higher than the present one in Rush county, which is now only twenty-three cents on the hundred dollars. Wayne county was the highest in the district, forty-five cents. That, it will be noticed, is twenty-two cents on the hundred dollars more than is the levy here. Shelby has the lowest known levy and that is 6 cents higher than Rush county's.

There is no intimation that the

COMMENTS ON FEATURE PAPER

District and State Press Make Mention of Tuesday's Edition of the Daily Republican.

EXTRACTS ARE REPRODUCED

One Time Editors Are Praised For Unique and Diversified Sheet
Which They Concocted.

The feature edition of the Daily Republican, published Tuesday by the "comeback" editors excited some comment from both the district and metropolitan press, a few of which are herewith reproduced:

The Connersville Examiner says: The Rushville Republican Monday announced that Tuesday's edition of that paper would be turned over to the tender mercies of some of its former editors and a special edition would be gotten out. E. J. Hancock, of Ashtabula, O., was to be the editor, Tom J. Geraghty of New York, managing editor, Clifford Lee, city editor, Claude Simpson, staff correspondent, and Myron R. Green, department editor.

All of these men are now or have been employed on various metropolitan dailies and the result of their efforts to edit the paper for one day must be seen to be appreciated.

Says the Indianapolis News: Tuesday's edition of the Daily Republican was a product of the former editors of the paper. It contained local features and writeups of Rushville people. The editorial page contained such features as "Hall of Fame," "Heard in Hotel Lobbies," "Daffydill Doings in Dippy Dell," "Dorothy Dix Talks With Mag Poe," and other stories of Rushville people and of interests to Rushville people.

Ministers, public officials, attorneys, street cleaners, cigar makers and others were interviewed on timely subjects. Mayor Black gave out a statement in which he advocated many public reforms and predicted that one million dollars would be spent in improvements in the next year. Candidates for offices got their initial boost. All live news of the day was boiled down to one column, and the space was given over to seriocomic articles. There was a lavish display of cartoons to illustrate the stories. The films at the moving picture

LOST HIS MONTH'S SALARY

Gilbert Boys, Rural Route Carrier, is Out $83.33.

Gilbert Boys, rural route carrier on route ten out of this city, is loser a month's salary. Mr. Boys received his check for $83.33 from the government for the month of August and then lost it. He does not know where or when it was lost, but does know that it is gone and would appreciate very much if the finder would bring it to him or leave it at the postoffice. The check is made payable to Mr. Boys and is worthless to anyone except himself and for this reason it is believed the check will be returned.

LOCAL VETERANS ATTEND REUNIONS

G. W. Looney of This City Elected
Vice-President of Forty-Fourth
Indiana Regimental Association.

OTHERS ATTEND 52d REUNION

Indianapolis is the mecca for old soldiers' reunions during the annual State fair week and this year the reunionists have been more in evidence than ever before. Rush county veterans have participated in the reunions more or less this week and some have been elected to offices of their respective associations.

Yesterday several surviving members of the Fifty-second Indiana in this county attended their annual reunion in room twenty-two of the Marion county court house. About forty were in attendance. The survivors in this county are: Jabez Smith, Col. Ed. Wolfe, Scott Conde, Melvin Brooks, Smith Carney and Alfred Pearsey. Col. Wolfe is president of the regimental association. James P. Abel of Livingston, Cal., came the greatest distance to attend the regimental reunion.

George W. Looney of this city attended the annual reunion of the Forty-fourth Indiana regiment in the Indianapolis court house yesterday and was elected vice-president of the association. There were twenty-two surviving members present. One death has occurred in the ranks of the regiment in the last year.

LOST ALONG FLATROCK

Harry Lakin Gets in Tall Weeds and Travels in Circle.

"Lost in the Wilds of Flatrock" might be the title applied to the little farce which was enacted by Harry Lakin and his two boys yesterday afternoon. Harry took his two youngsters out for a little pleasure walk along the banks of old Flatrock. When the weeds got higher than his head he got lost and tramped around in a circle for some time. Finally he sighted the friendly floom of the country club house and reached it well nigh exhausted. His friends who fanned when he reached the club grounds say that he was covered with perspiration and looked as if he might have jumped into the river without removing his clothes.

STRUCK WITH HATCHET.

Frank Anspaugh of St. Paul tried to save a few steps by throwing his hatchet to the house from where he was working, sixty feet away and struck Mrs. Anspaugh in the palm of the hand. A gash three inches long was inflicted. She was stooping over pulling grass from along a walk, and Anspaugh failed to see her.

OLDEST CASE STRICKEN OFF

Suit Which Was Filed Seven Years Ago Yesterday, is Taken Out of Court Today.

RECEIVER FILES HIS REPORT

Will of Late Gideon Wellman is Admitted to Probate—Five Children, Equal Heirs.

Court was a rather quiet place as cases of small import were settled. One case which has been on the docket and which was by far the oldest suit in court was stricken off when the final action in it was taken. The will of the late Gideon Wellman was admitted for probate in court today.

Mr. Wellman, it will be remembered, who was a wealthy farmer, living at 512 North Morgan street, died several weeks ago. His will provides the Noble township farm, consisting of two hundred and five acres, shall be divided equally among three of his children, Mrs. Jabez Winship, Mrs. Manford Stevens, and Harvey P. Wellman. It is requested that Mrs. Winship be given the section which adjoins her present home, Mrs. Stevens, the center section, and Harvey Wellman, the other third.

The other two daughters, Mrs. Jesse Bennett and Mrs. Will Meredith of 516 North Morgan street, the will provides, shall be given the farm of one hundred and twenty acres in Rushville township, the two sharing alike. Provisions are made for the payment of just claims against the estate and funeral expenses after which the residue, consisting of personal property, notes, cash on hands and the two pieces of real estate in North Morgan street shall be divided equally among the five surviving children.

At the time the will was made, Mrs. Wellman was living and the will provides that each of the children shall pay to her one hundred dollars a year upon demand. It provided that the annual stipend shall be a lien on the property bequeathed by each child, but that clause is of no use now.

The property is all willed subject to the life estate of the five children. The document provides that the property shall descend to the children's children and their heirs and that in case of the death of one of the heirs without a descendant, that share shall be divided equally among the surviving children and the heirs of such of those who may be deceased.

There was an unusual action taken in court today when a case which has been on the docket for seven years was stricken off. It was filed seven years ago yesterday. It was by far the oldest case in court. The suit was that of Owen L. Carr against John W. Alsman and Elihu Price for receiver. Tom Mull had been appointed receiver and today he filed his final report which was the last step taken in the suit.

Today the International Harvester Company was given judgment against Herman Rolles and John T. Meek, both of Richland township, in the sum of $189.20.

A verdict for the plaintiffs was declared in the case of Carr and Lawrence Day by their best friend, Owen S. Hill, against George Richardson and Herman Shipley for quiet title.

George R. Siders was appointed guardian of Elma, Edith, and John Coffin, minor heirs of Louisa Coffin. Omer W. Abernathy was appointed guardian for Fred Abernathy, minor heir of John Derringer.

Daffydil Doings Down In Dippy Dell

A large crowd had assembled at the corner of Main and Second streets to hear the famous campaign orator, Joe Bowles, expostulate on the principles of the Republican party and the tariff. It was his maiden speech of the campaign and as the Hon. Joe is looked upon as the official starter of the election dope, the crowd was ever so anxious to hear him. Cheer after cheer greeted his efforts and the maddening throng of humanity clamored for more of the stuff that made him famous. Taking another chew of tobacco, Joe settled down to do the marathon talking act when suddenly a portion of the crowd was separated and jostled about like a ship on the ocean of joy, by Joe Williamson, who did a center rush stunt toward the spot where Mr. Bowles was standing. For a time things looked as though there was going to be a riot and a hurry up call was sent for the reserves. But Williamson had no intention of breaking up the party; his intentions were to gain a place of vantage. The noise and confusion was deafening, and as the turmoil was at the highest some one gently hurled a brick from the outer edge of the throng. The missile struck a man on the head and as he fell in a heap he was heard to utter in a deep bass voice: "If Earl Payne stacks money, does Lee Pyle?"

It looks easy, but it's hard to do without a make-up.

INCENDIARISM HAS DEVELOPED SYSTEM

Porter County "Fire Bugs" Operating Boldly.

Valparaiso, Ind., Sept. 7.—Detectives have been sent to this city by insurance companies which have been heavy losers during the last four months from incendiary fires that destroyed barns, buildings, a schoolhouse and livestock, with instructions to capture the incendiaries.

Beginning with the burning of the new $10,000 schoolhouse in Pine township, when a stranger was seen running from the school grounds just before the fire was discovered, until the fire early Monday morning, when a large stable at the summer resort of James Donnelly, on the Kankakee river near Baum's bridge, this county, was burned, with its contents and eight horses owned by guests, incendiaries have waged a systematic campaign of destruction, and their operations have been so scattered over the county that it has been impossible to follow their movements in time to detect them.

According to a Chicago fire insurance adjuster, the losses thus far incurred by the insuring companies is nearly $250,000, in every case but one the victims of these incendiaries being insured for the full amount of their losses.

NO AUTHORITY TO EXTRADITE

Police Court Not the Proper Tribunal.

REVIVES THE M'NAMARA CASE

Decision of the Circuit Court at Indianapolis in a Similar Case Holds That the Police Judge Has No More Authority Than a Private Citizen to Hear Extradition Cases—Judge Collins Will Appeal to Supreme Court.

Indianapolis, Sept. 7.—Judge Remster of the Marion county circuit court, in giving a decision in the case of Louis Rochelle, an alleged fugitive, held that the police court of Indianapolis had no jurisdiction in extradition cases, and that Judge Collins of police court acted without authority when he delivered Rochelle to an officer from Ohio. The decision came on a motion to quash a writ of habeas corpus issued on the application of Rochelle. Since, according to Judge Remster's decision, Judge Collins could not act in the case and legally had no more power than an ordinary citizen, the motion of Judge Collins to quash the writ as to him was sustained but the motion as to all other defendants in the habeas corpus proceedings was overruled.

Judge Remster held that, under the law, the superior, circuit and criminal courts are the only courts before which extradition cases should be heard.

The circumstances surrounding the Rochelle case were similar to those in the removal of John J. McNamara, and a conclusion reached from the decision is that Judge Collins had no right to deliver McNamara to Detective William Burns and Special Officer James Hosick. It is believed the decision, unless reversed by a higher court, may have considerable bearing on the cases of Burns and Hosick when they are tried on charges of kidnapping McNamara.

Judge Collins says the case will be appealed. It is the opinion of a number of attorneys who have been interested in the case, that the decision of Judge Remster will stand.

DENIES CHARGE

Brazil Man Held on "Arson Trust" Charge Says He Is Innocent.

Brazil, Ind., Sept. 7.—Benjamin Zink, a traveling salesman, is under arrest here charged with arson, in connection with the so-called "arson trust" of Chicago. Attempts made to release him on habeas corpus proceedings failed. He says he knows nothing of the Chicago arson plots. The Northwestern Can company of Brazil by which he is employed, is assisting him in his efforts to obtain his release.

Threw Switch Wrong Way.

Warsaw, Ind., Sept. 7.—J. M. Perry, night man at the Winona Interurban Railway company's substation near Milford, was badly injured when the big rotary in the building flew to pieces. Mr. Perry's collar bone was broken and he was badly cut and bruised. A section of the brick building was torn down and the damage is estimated at $2,000. The peculiar accident was caused by throwing a switch the wrong way.

Prepared His Own Gallows.

Hammond, Ind., Sept. 7.—Extemporizing his own gallows, from which he jumped and broke his neck in the noose of the hangman, Louis Olsen, aged sixty-five, a farmer, committed suicide. He was "tired of life."

My backache left me and to one of my business expressmen, that alone is a great advantage. My kidneys acted free and normal, and that saved me a lot of misery. It is now a pleasure to work where it used to be a misery. Foley Kidney Pills have cured me and have my highest praise. F. B. Johnson & Co."

An experiment of free newspapers in Oklahoma has failed. Newspapers that are distributed like hand bills are generally about as interesting.

As the government spent $5,000,000 more than it received in August, it is high time that Uncle Sam's wife learned to do her own work.

Wind and worms have damaged the cotton crops very badly, but the crop experts may also prove to have been among these destructive insect pests.

Oysters are again eatable now that September is here, and good sewage will again be utilized in the waters where this popular eatable is fed.

It is announced that Germany and France are having polite "conversations" over Morocco, but we notice each of them keep his eye on the other fellow's hip pocket.

More canals found on Mars. A tough country for the Unemployed, with the chance to dig ditches always being handed out to them.

The president has been asked to let his cow "Pauline" appear in the play, "Way Down East," but it would be more effective still if Mr. Taft could be secured to milk her on the stage.

"Watson Out of the Race," announces a headline in one of our contemporaries, speaking of Watson's chances for returning to congress. Inasmuch as 'Our Jim' got out of the race for congress about five years ago at the request of his constituents, our contemporary is a little late in publishing the news.

The Indianapolis Sun persists in making such assertions as the above when the editorial writer who penned that gem, if he knows anything whatever about the Sixth district at all, should be acquainted with the fact that James E. Watson did not get out of the race for congress, "at the request of his constituents." In fact, there is no doubt but what the editorial writer does know that James E. Watson did retire from congress to make the race for the gubernatorial nomination, which he won. Such mis-statement of facts so well known to every voter in the Sixth district is hardly to be commended—they are rather to be condemned—especially when they are made in the columns of an alleged Republican newspaper. But this is not an uncommon thing for the Sun.

And again when the Sun says, "Charley Herby's efforts to resuscitate Jim Watson for congressional usage and President Taft's defense of his tariff attitude fulfill our idea of doing nothing," it may not be aware of the fact that Charlie Herby generally does something when he starts it. He generally runs on high gear.

President Taft's opinion of the recent extraordinary session of congress, shared in by the public at large is as follows: "Never in the history of the government, I venture to say, have important public interests been dealt with in such a light-hearted way, with such absolute ignorance of the effect of legislation and with such willingness to sacrifice business interests to political expediencies as in the present legislation which has just been defeated."

What insurgency means under the leadership of such politicians as Senator Bristow is shown by what recently happened in the Second Kansas district, says the Marion Chronicle. The insurgent Republican committee in that district first decided that the committee would make the congressional nomination. The beneficiary of the plan was too wise to accept the tender and demanded a primary. The committee then fixed a primary election ten days off, and passed a resolution that each candidate should pay a fee of $3,000. This was intended to keep everyone else from running but choice of the committee. This method of trusting the people and keeping the hands of the plutocracy off of government affairs is a sample of what may be expected from politicians of Mr. Bristow's rule or ruin school when they get the reins.

AMUSEMENTS

The Palace will have the usual change of program tonight. The first picture is a Selig drama of the early west, entitled, "Sacrifice and Civilization." The other film is a Pathe, "The Step Sisters." It is a very touching and pathetic drama.

The Portola will have a special attraction Friday and Saturday nights. "The Minute Man" is a picture telling the story of the Battle of Concord and Lexington. The scenes are laid on the exact ground of this famous battle and the picture is said to be one of the most realistic war dramas ever produced. The other is a special Selig picture "Captain Kate." It is the story of a woman, deserted on a lonely island, and who finally wins out. The picture is another of the Selig famous wild animal pictures and is said to be the only one of its kind ever attempted. The management of the theater has been trying for weeks to bring these two special films to this city and at last was successful. Tonight the films will be a Selig, "The Two Lives" and a Kalem, "The Tenderfoot's Claim."

WIDOW OF SUICIDE GUARDS $100,000 SECRET.

Refuses to Tell Husband's Story, and His Property is Held Back.

A young woman went to a New York lawyer the other day and told him that because her husband when dying had induced her to listen to a secret he said was slowly killing him and because she agreed to hear it, though he imposed the condition that they die together immediately afterward, her sisters-in-law in the City of Mexico refused to let her have the property he left, amounting to $100,000.

She said she had never told the secret and that she never would. The lawyer has learned that last winter, when she lay in a hospital recovering from the wounds inflicted by her husband upon her (those inflicted on himself caused his death), she refused to submit to an operation for blood poisoning because she was afraid of telling the secret under an anaesthetic.

Four letters have been sent to the City of Mexico to sisters of the dead man. In these the lawyer has tried to bring about an understanding without the necessity of court proceedings. Elsa Muchweck Torrea is the young widow. Her husband's name was Raul Torrea. She came from Naumburg, Germany, a few years before she met the young Mexican in New York. He was twenty-seven and she was twenty-five last summer when they decided to be married. They went to the city hall on Oct. 17, 1910, got a license and had an alderman marry them.

Mrs. Torrea has told her lawyer that they planned to go to the City of Mexico, where he had been an instructor in a military school, but the husband proposed the double suicide.

Since she got out of the hospital Mrs. Torrea has filed ancillary letters of administration with the surrogate and has been appointed administratrix of her husband's estate under a bond of $12,000. A friend to whom Torrea wrote has told her lawyer that Richard Torrea, Raul's father, left $800,000 when he died and that about $100,000 of this was to go to Raul.

Her demands upon the estate have been met by the demand from the sisters that she tell them the reasons that led Torrea to make the suicide agreement.

FOR PERMANENT ARMY CAMP.

Government Agents Looking Over Sites in Mountains of Maryland.

A big permanent camp for army maneuvers is planned by the United States government at either Oakland or Mountain Lake Park, Md., on the crest of the Alleghenies.

Negotiations between the government and the Baltimore and Ohio railroad for the purchase of a tract of land have been under way for some time. Recently officials of the Baltimore and Ohio went over the prospective site at Oakland with Lieutenant E. S. West, U. S. A. It is said that a number of the residents in and near Oakland have forwarded petitions to the government asking that the place be selected for the camp. Nothing definite was decided upon on the trip.

The people at Mountain Lake Park are just as desirous as those of Oakland to have the camp located near them. The government wants to purchase a tract of about 10,000 acres. It is said that the railroad can sell about 30,000 acres at Oakland and if more is wanted may be in a position to let the government have 50,000 acres.

"HONOR THE OLD MAIDS."

Creed of Newest Religion Founded by a Cincinnati man.

"Honor all 'old maids,' for they are worth more in ability and in character than the mollycoddles they are replacing right and left every day."

This is the creed established by Henry Andre of Cincinnati for his new organization, which will be established in forty countries on the globe.

The new body will take the form of a new seven day a week religion, which will be spread everywhere so that everybody may learn its doctrines. Mr. Andre says the organization is not to include suffrage clubs and sewing circles, but rather is to be preached to men by men. The keynote will be courtesy.

"Personally I'd rather marry an old maid who knows life," said Mr. Andre, "than some brainless, extravagant young girl. There is less danger of divorce."

Young Girl's Strange Death.

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 7.—Terrified at the sight of two young men she and a companion met, Augusta Lashowski, a fifteen-year-old girl, fell dead of fright while crossing a dark field. Physicians who examined the body of the girl found no bruises or traces of injury. The other girl said the boys made no attempt to disturb her and the dead girl, who is said to have been in perfect health.

MAY DISCLOSE MANY CRIMES

Boston Police Have an Important Catch.

READY TO GIVE UP THE GANG

Revelations Point to the Existence of a Great Anarchistic Body That Has Central Headquarters in or Near New York, Whose Leader Is a Woman Young in Years but Old and Wise in Experience.

Boston, Sept. 7.—Arraigned in the criminal court, the Goldbergs, Joseph and Jacob, were each held in $45,000 bonds for a future hearing. Though they have not as yet made a statement to Chief Watt, it is understood that they stand ready to do all that Harris Rothstein and Stanislaw Krashowski, the previously arrested prisoners, have done. That is to tell all they know about the jewelry burglary and then go into details on a number of other cases which when revealed will fairly startle the world. They are said to know all of the inside facts in the Forest Hill bandit case, the Woburn cases of a like nature, a job in Pennsylvania, another in New Jersey, and, most important of all, the famous Houndsditch murders. Rothstein has already told Deputy Watts enough to convince him that he and the other members of the band are a part of a great anarchistic body that has central headquarters either in New York or just outside it, and that its leader is a woman, young in years but wise in experience. It is a fact that at the present time men from the local headquarters are in New York looking for further evidence and also to substantiate the story told first by Rothstein and in a way corroborated by the Goldbergs during their trip across the ocean in custody of Lieutenant Lee and Inspector Cronin.

Having been apprised of the confession of Rothstein and Krashowski, both Goldbergs have said they are anxious to make a confession.

The Goldbergs said they will tell the inside story of the Houndsditch and Steine Morrison murders in London a year ago, which resulted in the sensational street battle there.

A HORRID DEED

Lonely Island in Louisiana Marshes Reveals Mysterious Crime.

Biloxi, Miss., Sept. 7.—Hands and feet bound with cords to a tall stake erected on the edge of White Grass Island in the Louisiana marshes, the body of a white man was found. The discovery was reported by Captain John Jelutich and members of the crew of the fishing schooner Apache. The body was absolutely nude. The man appeared to have been dead about two weeks.

Captain Jelutich thinks the man was marooned on the island, tied up and left to a lingering death from hunger and exposure. The possible motive or identity of those who committed the crime is a mystery.

The United States Steel corporation has posted orders forbidding smoking within its big plants.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 7.—All complete except for the court's charge to the jury and the summing up of the lawyers, the case of Henry Clay Beattie, jr., may be reopened for the addition of startling testimony before it passes to the hands of the jury.

If information which has come to the commonwealth's prosecutor, Louis O. Wendenburg, proves to be true, Judge Watson will allow the commonwealth to reopen its case and put on the stand an eyewitness to the killing of Mrs. Beattie on the night of July 18.

So strongly does the prosecutor believe in the truth of the information he has received that he has wired the authorities of another city to cooperate with a lawyer to examine a man who states that he witnessed the murder. Wendenburg will hear from the authorities today whether or not the volunteer witness is thought to be telling the truth. If a favorable report is received the witness will be hurried to Chesterfield Courthouse and will go on the stand immediately to confront the prisoner, who, he says in a confession to Wendenburg, shot Mrs. Beattie before his eyes.

Certain Suspicions Corroborated.

A great many letters and alleged confessions from cranks have been received by Judge Watson and the lawyers on both sides during the progress of this case, but Wendenburg said that he is ready to believe that the letter conveying this unusual information is not of that class. The details set forth are too circumstantial to be the work of a crank. But far more convincing is the fact that in several respects incidents of the murder as they are given by the letter writer, entirely corroborate suspicions which Wendenburg and his detectives have had since the first day they worked on the case, but which they have not been able hitherto to verify.

So closely do the circumstances of the murder narrated by this self-confessed eyewitness tally with the theories held by the prosecution, but as yet unverified, that if the witness is brought to testify Wendenburg will move for the exhumation of Mrs. Beattie's body in order that physical facts may corroborate the story of the witness. The letter was mailed at a city the name of which Wendenburg withholds from publication, but, as he says, a day and a half distant by rail from Richmond.

"I write this because my conscience will no longer allow me to be still," were the first words of the letter. "I saw Henry Beattie kill his wife," the letter continued, "and I have kept my mouth shut to this minute because I was afraid. But I don't want him to escape punishment, and now I am willing to come and testify to what I know if you want me."

Story of the Crime.

The writer then gave his name, the address of the boarding house in the city to which he said he had fled two days after the murder on money furnished by Henry Beattie himself, and the name of the man in that city who now employs him. Then followed his statement. This is substantially the way he told it: "I was employed by [Mr. Wendenburg withholds the name], who is a farmer and who has a farm near the Midlothian turnpike in Chesterfield county not far from South Richmond. I was a farmhand. On the evening of July 18 last a cow belonging to Mr. — strayed and I was out to hunt for it.

"The cow got into the pine woods and I followed it until long after dark. Some time after dark I was in the pine woods on the right hand side of the Midlothian turnpike as you go out from Richmond, and I saw a light. As I walked closer to the road I saw an auto standing almost in the middle of the road facing toward Richmond, and there were two people in it, a man and a woman. They were both sitting in the front seat.

"They were quarreling; I could hear them talking loud, so I did not show myself, but waited behind a tree about ten feet from the edge of the road, in the thick pine woods, to hear what they said.

"The woman was pleading with the man. She was saying that she wanted her love back again and she did not impressed the prosecution's chief lawyer and detectives most with its credibility was the citing of Beattie's having struck his wife a blow before he shot her. It is no secret that after the report of the physicians who examined Mrs. Beattie's body Wendenburg was strongly impelled to incorporate in the indictment delivered against Beattie notice of a wound on the right side of the forehead which did not seem to result from the gunshot wound that caused the death. He was only deterred because of lack of ability to prove this point. The physicians reported that the frontal bone of the skull over the right eye showed a pressure and was probably broken. The gunshot charge had entered the left cheek and, driving through the skull, had broken all the bones at the back of the head, but had not penetrated the scalp. Whether the force of the discharge could have broken the bone at the opposite cheek from the gunshot wound was a mooted point with the physicians. They inclined to the belief that a blow had done that, though there were no external evidences of such.

Prosecution's Suspicions Confirmed.

In another feature the details of the letter are strongly corroborative of the theory of the prosecution as to how the murder was done. Through several witnesses the commonwealth has sought to prove that Mrs. Beattie could not have been killed in the car, for it would have been impossible for the pool of blood marking the scene of the murder to have dropped through the footboards. The prosecution has tried to prove, on the contrary, that Mrs. Beattie must have been standing on the left running board of the automobile when she was shot and that her body fell into the road. In no other way then by the fall of the body onto the road could the great pool of blood have been caused to form, the prosecution has urged. The story received through the letter effectually backs up the prosecution's theory in that, according to this witness, Mrs. Beattie had been knocked out of the automobile onto the road by her husband and there shot where she lay.

The letter writer's account of having seen Beattie go to the side of the road opposite him and return with something in his hand, which proved to be a gun, is also in line with the prosecution's case as it has been entered before the court. It is maintained by them that Beattie went out on the Midlothian turnpike earlier in the evening and secreted the shotgun behind a stump to the left of the road going out and that when he determined to kill his wife, he crossed the few paces to this stump and got the gun. Bloodhounds brought to the scene of the crime a few hours after it occurred followed this short trail to the stump and back again, but picked up no other.

PRETTY YOUNG GIRL STRANGELY MISSING

Massachusetts Community Is Aroused By Boy's Tale.

Stoughton, Mass., Sept. 7.—One of the prettiest young girls in Stoughton, Florence M. Brady, aged seventeen is missing and Morton G. Drew, also seventeen, a North Easton youth, has been arrested, charged with abduction.

Drew has made the startling statement to the state police that he threw the girl's skirt, petticoat and hair ribbon away at a dumping ground in Washington street. After making this amazing admission he refused to say a word as to how he had possession of the garments.

Drew was the last person seen with the girl. He took her to a moving picture show at the town hall Monday night. He admitted that he had left the hall at 9:10 o'clock with her, left her in Pearl street, and then "was so frightened" that he ran all the way home to North Easton, four miles away.

The police sounded a double fire call, summoning all citizens to aid in the search for the girl. Scores responded and a search of the woods surrounding Stoughton and Cushing's pond, a small body of water, was begun.

Lynching Is Threatened.

Mayfield, Ky., Sept. 7.—Posses are scouring Graves county in search of a negro who captured Mrs. Bertha McClure and, dragging her into the woods, held her a captive all day. He will be lynched if caught.

he went in the lead and was never headed. Baron Dillon, Jr., finished third and Bessie Brodigan, fourth. In the third heat Baron Dillon, Jr., did not do so well and finished fourth. The next heat Jones got his straightened out and took second. In the summaries he got second money. The black mare from the Bluegrass course in the third heat. Harrie Jones had won the first two heats very comfortably with Katherine R., the black mare from the Bluegrass country, but in the final heat she went to a break over in the back stretch. Before she caught Clodagh, owned by Dr. J. C. McCoy of Kirkwood, Del., and driven by Snedeker, secured such a lead that there was no chance to overtake him. He went under the wire first.

Jones made a protest to the judges, who called Snedeker and Niles into the stand and, after hearing their testimony, withheld their decision until after the final heat in the 2:14 trot had been raced. Then they announced that Clodagh had been set last for interference, thus giving the heat to Katherine R., and this also settled the race.

Today one of the features of the races will be a special match race between Aleyfras and Evelyn W. If Aleyfras is right a new mile record may be looked for as it is believed he can go in 2:00.

The Howard county council at Kokomo yesterday fixed the county tax levy at thirty-one cents, the same as last year.

ture shows were reviewed and unbiased criticisms were made.

When the "come-back" editors had completed their day's work they were taken to Indianapolis, with the regular editorial force, by the publishers, for a dinner at an Indianapolis cafe, which was followed by a theater party.

The staff for the special edition was: Ed J. Hancock, of the Ashtabula (O.) Independent, editor-in-chief; Tom J. Geraghty, New York Herald, managing editor; Clifford S. Lee, formerly of an Indianapolis paper, city editor; Claude Simpson, formerly of the Indianapolis News, who now lives in Roswell, N. M., staff correspondent; Myron Green of an Indianapolis newspaper, department editor. The former editors happened to be in Rushville on a vacation at the same time, and the feature edition was planned.

The following appeared in the Greensburg News:

The Rushville Republican, one of the spiciest, cleanest and most readable sheets on our exchange list, reached this office this morning filled with dope that would put a pair of parentheses around the mouth of the Sphinx—providing she could read snappy, modern English which is very doubtful. Former editors of the paper came back from sundry jobs in divers places, invaded the office, and ran the Republican for one day to suit themselves. The force consisted of Ed J. Hancock, of the Ashtabula Independent; Tom J. Geraghty of the New York Herald; Clifford S. Lee, late of the Indianapolis Star; Claude Simpson, formerly of the Indianapolis News; Myron R. Green, of the Star, and other pencilpushers who have made good.

We sincerely hope that the estimable gentlemen responsible for the appearance of the Republican succeeded in escaping from Rushville with whole scalps. They proposed to hand out for one day the plain, unpopular truth—a thing about as much out of place in a newspaper office as a busksaw in a drawing room.

Since the announcement of the project of these high falutin' writers, with the retirement of the whole office force, we had been wondering who would play the "devil," but now we are convinced that the entire bunch played the devil in a highly colored manner.

The News congratulates the Republican on its stunt, and hopes the one-day editors will return next year and give us some more diversion of the same class.

The Indianapolis Sun says: Former scribblers on the Rushville Republican printed Tuesday's issue of the paper and boarded an interurban car for Indianapolis to be entertained by the Republican Publishing Company at a dinner at the Denison hotel Tuesday night. After the dinner the party saw "The Fortune Hunter" at English's. The Tuesday staff of the Republican includes Tom J. Geraghty of the New York Herald; Claude Simpson, formerly of the News; Clifford S. Lee, formerly of the Star, Myron D. Green of the Star, and Ed J. Hancock.

FEAR GAS EXPLOSION

Mahin Says Lights Will be Off Until Repair's Made.

The cluster lights in Main street, above Third, will not be lighted for a few nights until a repair in the gas mains in that street has been made. A. T. Mahin, superintendent of the water and light plant, asked that Thomas Seanlan, night watchman, not turn on the lights until the gas leak has been stopped for fear that damage might be done to the conduits. There is escaping gas in the conduits, and, according to Mr. Mahin, there is danger of the sparks which are generally generated when the lights are turned on igniting the gas and causing an explosion and resulting in a great loss.
